PRESS BOX AND TICKET INFORMATION

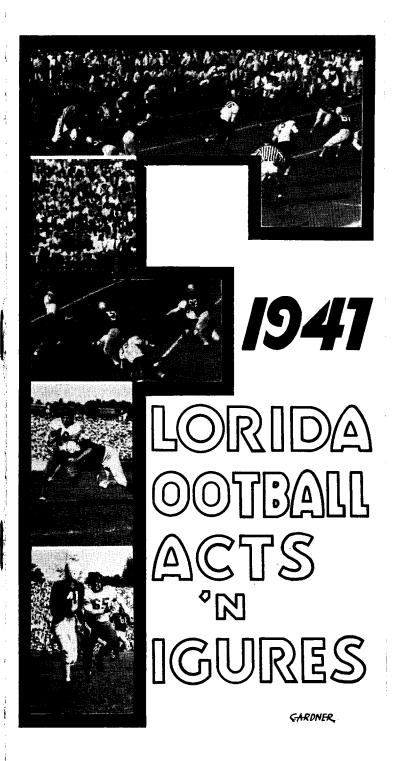

Press box tickets for all University of Florida "home" games will be handled by the Department of Sports Publicity. These games in 1947 are: September 27, Mississippi in Jacksonville; Oct. 4, North Texas State in Gainesville; Nov. 1, Furman in Tampa; Nov. 15, Georgia in Jacksonville; and November 29, Kansas State in Gainesville.

Only members of the actual working press and radio will be admitted to the press box. Because of expected crowded conditions at every game this year, newspaper and radio men assigned to these games are urged to give notification that they will cover a game as well in advance as possible.

When it is at all possible, we prefer to get your ticket to you at least four days in advance of the game. This forestalls the possibility of any last minute mixup and potential delay just before the kickoff. If, by chance, you do not know until a day or so before the game that you will cover a Florida game, we will make every effort to provide space upon receipt of a wire advising that you are coming. Your accommodations will be left at the General Information Booth at the Stadium.

May we call particular attention to press box conditions at the Florida-Georgia game in Jacksonville. Arrangements here are inadequate to supply the overwhelming demand. If Sports Editors will hold their working staff to a minimum for that game, it will be to the decided advantage of all.

In keeping with an established policy at the University of Florida, no complimentary tickets are issued for seats in the stands. Press tickets are issued only to the working press and the tickets are honored at the gate and at the press box, but not in the grand-stands. This policy is all inclusive and embraces not only the press and radio, but also all employees of the University and of the Athletic Department itself.

FACTS ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA

LOCATION: Gainesville, Florida, The University City, is located in the north-central section of the State, about equidistant—70 miles—from the Atlantic Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico. It is 70 miles southwest of Jacksonville, 120 miles northwest of Orlando, and 150 miles southeast of Tallahassee, capital of Florida. Now a modern town of approximately 16,000 population, Gainesville is among the South's most rapidly growing cities.

HISTORICAL STATEMENT: In 1853 the foundation work of the present University of Florida was laid in Ocala when a small private school, East Florida Independent Institute, was opened. Florida Agricultural College was established at Lake City in 1883, and by 1905 six colleges were at least in part state supported. With the passage of the Buckman Act in 1905, the University of Florida was established in its present Gainesville location. Its destiny has been guided since that time by three presidents: Dr. Andrew Sledd (1905-09), Dr. Albert A. Murphree (1909-1928), and Dr. John J. Tigert (1928-47).

ENROLLMENT: The total enrollment at the University of Florida for the regular 1946-47 term was 7,373 students. The University became a co-educational institution in July, and anticipates the enrollment in excess of 500 women students for the fall semester.

COLLEGES: The University of Florida is administered through eight colleges (University; Agriculture; Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education, Engineering; Law; Physical Education, Health and Athletics) and four schools (Pharmacy, Forestry, Architecture and Allied Arts, and the Graduate School). Bachelor and Masters degrees are awarded by colleges and schools, with the doctorate offered in economics, English, history, psychology, animal husbandry, biology, chemistry, pharmacy, pharmacology, and pharmacognosy.

PHYSICAL PLANT: The University's permanent physical plant, under current expansion, consists of 25 major instructional and research buildings designed to accommodate 2,500 students, and dormitories designed for 1,000 men. Temporary buildings are now providing space for the increased enrollment. Ten of these buildings are used for offices, classrooms, lecture rooms and laboratories, and thirteen are providing dormitory space. Further living accommodations are offered by three FlaVet (Florida Veterans) villages. The existing permanent buildings of the University represent an investment of some $5,194,000.

EXPANSION: Approved construction now under way at the University of Florida totals slightly in excess of $7,000,000. This work includes additions to the chemistry building, the infirmary, and the horticultural laboratory; the building of a huge modern gymnasium and a $891,000 modern cafeteria; and the modernization of physical facilities for the operation of the University.

THE SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE

The Southeastern Conference, of which the University of Florida is a member, is composed of the following Colleges and Universities of Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, and Louisiana:

University of Alabama Alabama Polytechnic Institute University of Florida Georgia Tech University of Georgia University of Kentucky Louisiana State University Mississippi State College University of Mississippi University of Tennessee Tulane University Vanderbilt University

President of the Conference is Dr. John J. Tigert of the University of Florida; and Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, of the University of Kentucky, is executive secretary.

The Southeastern Conference as such dates from the winter of 1932, but all of these schools have been members of the same athletic conference since the second year of the original Southern Conference in 1922. The Southern Conference at that time had a membership of twenty institutions from Louisiana to Maryland.

By 1931 a mutual understanding had been reached that it would be wise to divide the Conference, largely along geographical lines, and the Southeastern Conference came into being on December 8 and 9 at Knoxville, Tennessee. The new Conference included the University of the South (Sewanee, Tennessee), which has since dropped its membership.

Athletic teams of the Southeastern Conference have from the very beginning held their own well against representative schedules in the deep South as well as against intersectional opponents in all fields of sports.

The twelve institutions of the Conference have sent teams to the Rose Bowl, Sugar Bowl, Orange Bowl, and Cotton Bowl on 34 different occasions, and have emerged victorious in more than half of the encounters.

COLLEGE OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION, HEALTH AND ATHLETICS

Long-range vision and relentless work are travelling hand-in-glove at the University of Florida in the building of its 20-month old College of Physical Education, Health and Athletics. The functions of the College are just as implied by its name. Under its guidance are the required physical education and voluntary intramural activity of the University's men and women students, the student health program, intercollegiate athletics, and separate professional Physical Education curricula for men and women who desire degrees in this field.

The College is headed by Dean Dennis K. Stanley, a University of Florida alumnus who did his graduate work at Penn State. Department heads: Dr. E. Benton Salt, Professional Curricula; Dr. Embree Rose, Student Health; Herman Schnell, Required Physical Education; Spurgeon Cherry, Intramural Athletics and Recreation; and Joe Sherman, College and Sports Publicity.

Percy Beard, a member of the University of Florida staff for 11 years, is business manager of all departments of the new College.

Each department is an integral part of the College. Students of the professional curricula will be qualified upon graduation to accept physical education positions in elementary schools, high schools and colleges, and in state and municipal recreational and health programs. All students receive the benefit of professional instruction in recreational play and in the formulation of personal health habits which will serve them far beyond their days of academic study.

The Department of Student Health, which embraces the University Infirmary, executes a preventative and clinical program designed to safeguard the health of the student body. An immediate check of each student's medical case history upon registration and periodic checks through the Department of Required Physical Education permits thorough knowledge of the physical condition of each student throughout the year.

The Professional Curricula for men and women offers the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Physical Education, Health, Athletics, and Recreation, and preparation for careers as coaches and as teachers of physical education, health, and recreation. The course also provides sufficient elective courses to enable a student to become qualified as a teacher of math, English, history, chemistry, physics, and the biological sciences.

Percy Beard 4

The Required Physical Education program is a fouryear activity for all students, which is designed to impart skills in games in which the student will be able to participate and enjoy throughout life. During the basic phase of the program, students are taught proficiency in running, conditioning activities, boxing, swimming, apparatus and tumbling, and rugged games. The advanced phase permits student choice of such elective game activities as tennis, handball, golf and swimming.

Intramural activity presents a comprehensive slate of competitive sports and recreation for the entire student body, and guages its pace to the large number of students who for various reasons are unable to participate in the intercollegiate sports program. Fourteen sports appear on the agenda, and co-educational games and recreation are encouraged in those activities which lend themselves to mixed participation.

The Department of Athletics includes all intercollegiate sports. Football, basketball, baseball, track, and swimming make up the roster of major sports, while golf, tennis, rifle and cross country constitute the minor sports program.

In addition to offering a Bachelor of Arts degree in its field, the College of Physical Education, Health, and Athletics is being rounded into a valuable service college for every student - man or woman - of the University of Florida.

Without in any way minimizing the tremendous values of purely academic instruction and practical application, the new College is adding to the fullness of the University by stressing to all students the importance of physical fitness and the competitive will.

RAYMOND (Chief) WEST

Raymond West

Trainer and equipment manager of the University of Florida Gators, Raymond West was born August 26, 1907, on the Cheyenne Reservation at Darlington, Oklahoma, and given the Indian name "Running Wolf," His father was "Lightfoot" and his grandfather was Chief Thunder Bill. West played football, basketball, and track at Haskell Institute where he was coached by Dick Handley, later of Northwestern. Between his Haskell years and his 26 months in the Navy starting in 1942, he played several seasons of professional basketball with Jim Thorpe's Famous Indians, Olson's Swedes, and the DX Oilers of Tulsa. He joined the staff at the University of Florida in June of 1946.

THE GATOR COACHES

RAYMOND (Bear) WOLF Head Coach, University of Florida

A Texan since the tender age of four, Chicago-born Ray Wolf did his collegiate gridiron cavorting at Texas Christian University. He served there as assistant coach and at the University of North Carolina as head coach for six years before becoming the top man of University of Florida football in the spring of 1946.

As a schoolboy athlete in Fort Worth, Wolf was some shakes on the gridiron, the diamond, and the basketball court, with a short side trip down the track straightaway. He collected four letters in baseball, two in football, a pair in basketball, and added one in track as a senior when he was drafted from the diamond long enough to win one hurdle race.

At Texas Christian, under the coaching of Matty Bell, Wolf won his football letters as a sophomore and junior, but was benched by a bad knee his senior season. As a sophomore he was a tackle, and as a junior an All-Southwest Conference guard.

Ray's great moments of playing jubilation and dejection came when he fired a tough-angle 43-yard fieldgoal to defeat Arkansas 10 to 7 in 1926, and when he missed a straight-away 20-yarder against SMU when three points would have meant the Southwest Conference championship.

Wolf started his professional career as a baseball player, a sport in which he really stood out as a first baseman in both high school and college, but the same old bothersome knee proved too heavy a millstone. His one appearance at the plate in major league baseball brought, as he describes it, "A screaming drive right back through the pitcher's box. The only thing wrong was that it resulted in a double play.'

When the baseball career was definitely shelved, Wolf returned to TCU in 1928 as freshman line coach. He was elevated to varsity line coach when Francis Schmidt took over the Horned Frogs the next season. Coaching baseball all the while, "Bear" Wolf remained at TCU until he accepted the head coaching spot at the University of North Carolina in the spring of 1936.

As head coach he got his biggest thrills (aside from dumping traditional rival Duke University a couple of times) by watching his Tar Heels come from behind to tie Tulane 14-14 one Saturday and then upet favored Pennsylvania by a 30 to 6 score the next week. Those two events were highly encouraged by the sensational end play of Paul Severin, still a Wolf protege as end coach of the Gators.

After a four-year stretch in the Navy at pre-flight schools in Georgia and Texas and at Naval Air Stations in Miami and Pensacola, Wolf cast his coaching lot with the University of Florida Gators in time to direct the 1946 spring practice.

Playing spirited, colorful football, his Floridians fought their way through a rugged nine-game schedule without turning in a victory. But only once were the Gators held scoreless, and so scrappily did they go about taking it on the chin week after week that Gator supporters looked past the discouragements of the 1946 season into a definitely encouraging future.

LINE COACH TED TWOMEY

A native of Mellen, Wisconsin, of 1906 vintage, Line Coach Ted Twomey graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1930 with a Bachelor degree in Commercial Science. He played two years as a tackle under that immortal mentor of the Fighting Irish, Knute

Rockne, and while doing it made a number teams of both the Associated Press and United Press. To his immediate left on the scrimmage line was Jack Cannon, Notre Dame's unanimous All-America of that year clore with avertables! that year along with quarterback Frank Carideo. Twomey was a regular with the South Benders when they started a 27-game victory streak. About 1937 when former Notre Dame coaches came up with the All-time All-Notre Dame team, Twomey on that tackle position. still had a grip on that tackle position. His biggest football thrill as a player came in 1929 when the Irish played Southern in 1929 when the Irish played Southern California for the national championship in Chicago. Notre Dame won a 13 to 12 victory before football's largest crowd, something like 120,000 frenzied folks.

Since graduating 17 years ago, Twomey has been line coach at the Universities of Georgia, Kentucky, Texas, and South Carolina. He was in the USNR from 1942 until joining the Florida staff in February of 1946. February of 1946.

BACKFIELD COACH BUSTER BRANNON

It was at Pine Bluff, Arkansas, in 1909 that Byron (Buster) Brannon first saw daylight. In 1933 he received a Bachelor degree in Physical Education from Texas Christian in rhysical Education from 1exas Christian University. As a Horned Frog athlete he won three letters each in football and basketball, and before going to TCU he was a regular on the Athens, Texas, High School quintet which copped the national shoolbox basketball sharmingship. shoolboy basketball championship. On the gridiron he was the signal caller and tailback in Coach Francis Schmidt's single wingback offensive. In basketball he was a guard and 1933 captain of the Horned Frogs and a member of the All-Southwest Conference teams in 1932 and 1933. High spots among his football memories are the day he quickkicked 92 yards to a stop on the SMU two yard line, and the time he called the shots on ground drives of 60 and 70 yards, both of which scored, to defeate Texas 14 to 0 for the Conference title. After graduation, Brannon spent five years in high school coaching before going to Rice Institute in 1937 as football backfield coach and head basketball coach. He remained at Rice until beginning a four-year term in the Navy in 1942, and joined the Florida staff in February 1946.

END COACH PAUL SEVERIN

Paul Severin made his world debut at Natrone, Pennsylvania, on August 14, 1918. After becoming a four sport athlete (football, oli Addast (1975). The basketball, golf, and basketball at Har-Back High School and making the schoolboy All-Conference football and basketball teams, he cast his collegiate lot with the University of North Carolina, graduating in Physical Education in 1941. On the gridiron he picked up three varsity letters as an end and captained the 1940 Tar Heels; he added three more in basketball as a forward; and two more as a golfer. An all around excellent end and pass snagger delux, Severin made the All-Southern Conference football team three years and the All-Conference basketball team as a junior. the made the Associated Press and several other All-America football teams as a junior and just about covered the All-America field as a senior. He captained the Southern team in the Blue-Grey All-Star game of 1940. Among his football feats were the scoring of four U.N.C. touchdowns in a row which enabled the Tar Heels to tie Tulane (14-14) and to Tar Heels to tie Tulane (14-14) and to start the scoring in a 30 to 6 upset victory over Pennsylvania. He coached at Wilmington (N. C.) High School before joining the Navy and was with the USS Quincy when it took President Roosevelt to Yalta for the late Chief Executive final trip abroad. Immediately upon obtaining his Naval release, Severin hustled to join the University of Florida in February 1946.

Born in Chicago on April 19, 1903, Sam McAllister made football, basketball and baseball letters at St. Marys, Kansas, high school before going on to play the same sports at St. Marys College for two years. He transferred to St. Viators, in Bourbonnais, Illinois, for his final two collegiate years, and graduated in 1926 with the Bachelor degree in General Science. At St. Viators, McAllister played under Jack Crangle and Ralph Glaze, All-Americans at Illinois and Dartmouth respectively, winning two monograms each in football as a tackle and fullback, baskethall as a guard, and baseball as a pitcher. He captained the football and baseball teams. Upon graduating he became Head Coach there (handling football, basketball, baseball, and track) for a four-year period, nad then joined the Auburn staff for another four-year stretch as football line coach and head coach of basketball and baseball. There followed a year in business in Chicago before he served as the

Sam McAllister

University of Georgia's line coach during the season of 1935. In 1936 he came to the University of Florida as football line coach and baseball and basketball head coach until 1942, the year of his entry into the Navy for a three and a half year period. He returned to the Gator staff late in 1945 and this year will be Head Coach, of the combined Freshman-Varsity "B" football team.

ASSISTANT COACH DAVE FULLER

On April 7, 1915, near Wake Forest, N. C., Dave Fuller began his journey through life. After attending high schools at Wake Forest and Raleigh, he received a Bachelor degree in Education from Wake Forest College in 1940. As a schoolboy, he lettered three times each in football, basketball, and baseball, and as a college player he repeated the performance, playing tailback on the gridiron, center and guard on the hardwood, and first base on the diamond. With the Deacon basketballers he played in the 1939 national collegiate invitation basketball tournament at Philadelphia, and was on the short end of a 53 to 62 loss to was on the short end of a 53 to 62 loss to Ohio State. A Grade-A passer, his most memorable toss came when he was playing a strange position against South Carolina in 1938. The Deacons were making their death struggles in the dying moments of the Gamecock game when Fuller went in as an end rather than at the usual tailback resition. Moments later Evalua teand position. Moments later Fuller tossed an end-around pass to set up the score which brought a 20 to 19 win. A three-sport coach at Hertford (N. C.) High School before joining the Navy, Fuller came to the Gator staff in September 1946.

ASSISTANT COACH JULIUS (MUSH) BATTISTA

The sun first peeped over the horizon for Julius (Mush) Battista in Endicott, N. Y., on October 1, 1916. He was a football guard and fullback and a track weight man for Endicott High, winning four letters in football and three in track and captaining both teams his senior year. As an Endicott senior he played against Clearwater (Fla.) High School in a milk fund football game in 1936, and the following fall entered the University of Florida, graduating in Education in 1941. With the Gators, playing two seasons under Josh Cody and one under Coach Tom Lieb, Mush won his football spurs three times as a guard. After graduation he was assistant freshman football and track coach with the Gators before entering the Air Corps for a four-year period. He returned to the Florida staff in February of 1946.

GATOR QUICKIES

Twenty-two lettermen, twenty-one 1946 reserves, and twenty-two freshmen make up the 1947 University of Florida football roster.

Florida's two top scorers of 1946, Fullback Gaspar Vaccaro (30 points) and Halfback Hal Griffin (24 points) are back in the Gator scoring corps for the 1947 season.

Florida's Gators believe in covering the state thoroughly: They play in four Florida cities in 1947: Jacksonville, Gainesville, Tampa, and Miami.

In 40 seasons of football, the Florida Gators have met 19 different schools from 18 states and Cuba.

The University of Florida meets three outstanding 1946 Bowl teams this year: Georgia (Sugar Bowl winner), North Carolina (Sugar Bowl Loser), and N. C. State (Gator Bowl loser).

Fullback Gaspar Vaccaro was Florida chief ground gainer last year and quarterback Doug Belden topped the passers. Belden had a toal offense yardage of 518, and Vaccaro's was 361.

Florida's Gators have played only one tie football game in the last six seasons, covering 56 games. It was a 6-6 stalemate with Tulane in 1945.

Quarterback Doug Belden, who will be the man behind the center in the Florida "T" this year, completed 44 of 92 passes last fall from the double and single wing.

The University of Florida's most lop-sided football victory was a 144 rout of Southern in 1913, and the other side of the ledger shows a 75 to 0 loss to Georgia in 1942.

The Gators of Florida, who have a ten game schedule in 1947, played eleven-game campaigns in 1921-37-38-39.

Ends Dewell Rushing and Grant Hester and halfback Kenneth McLean return to the collegiate gridiron with Florida Gators this year after two years absences in service. All three won football letters here in 1944.

The two trickiest pronunciations among the names on Florida's football roster are those of Marcelina Huerta (pronounced Worta), and Bob Gruetzmacher (Gritzmocker), both of Tampa.

Since it is almost traditional to give "big and little" statistics, here goes on Florida's Gators: Heavyweight is 230 pound tackle candidate Corliss Carver of Jacksonville, and tinymite is 155 pound left halfback Loren Broadus, also of the Gate City.

Florida's Gators will meet two brand new football opponents in 1947: North Texas State and Kansas State.

A record of the 1906 Florida-Rollins game reveals that the admission price was 50 cents.

In 345 football games the University of Florida has won six one-point victories and suffered seven one-point defeats, which makes that score 7 to 6 also.

Loren Broadus, 155-pound Florida Gator freshman left half back from Jacksonville, was named by Florida sports writers for the 1946 Orange Bowl Award to the "Most Outstanding High School Athlete".

The University of Florida's longest football winning streak was from the third game of 1910 to the third game of 1912, a stretch of 13 straight victories; points were 260 to 49.

Two members of the University of Florida's coaching staff were All-America footballers in their playing days: end coach Paul Severin at the University of North Carolina and line coach Ted Twomey at Notre Dame.

Thirty-four of Florida's 65 football squadmen are ex-servicemen, and 55 of the total number of candidates are Floridians.

The best pre-season estimate reveals that Florida's Gators will average right at 191 pounds throughout this fall, with a 201-pound line and a 174-pound average in the backfield.

In two consecutive football seasons, 1934 and 1935, Florida's Gators scored 113 points.

Doug Belden, Florida's veteran quarterback, had a total offense (running and passing) average of 4.3 yards each time he handled the pigskin on a running or passing play in 1946. He scored one touchdown afoot and tossed three more.

Paul Mortellaro, 205 pound Florida tackle from Tampa, will be after his fourth football letter this fall. Mortellaro won his spurs with the Gators in 1944-45-46.

Florida's Gators might do a lot of pigskin tossing this year; returning lettermen Doug Belden, Billy Parker, Hal Griffin and Gaspar Vaccaro threw a total of 183 passes in 1946.

GYMNASIUM-AUDITORIUM

Currently under construction at the University of Florida is a huge multi-purpose gymnasium-auditorium which will house the College of Physical Education, Health and Athletics and all of its programs.

A three-story and basement fireproof building, the gymnasium-auditorium is designed to meet many needs of the University additional to those of intercollegiate athletics and the intramural and recreational activities of the student body. The auditorium will afford the only indoor meeting place capable of seating the entire student body.

So designed that it will afford utmost efficiency in student registration and processing, the building will upon occasions be used for these activities and also as headquarters for various educational groups which convene on the University campus.

The basement houses freshman lockers, showers, and equipment rooms; five offices, including those of the building superintendent; and a large area which may be adapted for use as sleeping quarters for visiting teams and other groups.

On the first floor level will be the main gymnasium floor, which will accommodate four regulation basketball courts; varsity locker and shower rooms; training quarters; intramural offices; a corrective gymnasium; and lockers and showers for use in the University's over-all physical education program. The gymnasium, when used as a single basketball court for intercollegiate games, will seat in excess of 6,500 spectators.

The main entrance of the building opens onto the second floor and the administrative offices of the College of Physical Education, Health and Athletics; offices of the intercollegiate coaching staff; six classrooms; a projection room of approximately 200 seats for studies in visual education; a large exercise room; and the gymnasium concession area.

The offices of the Professional Curricula in Physical Education will be located on the third floor, along with the Library, and the "F" Club rooms.
